PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, October 18 has been established as the opening date for the 1958 pheasant hunting season in South Dakota; and

WHEREAS, some 100,000 residents of South Dakota annually participate in hunting the ringneck pheasant, in addition to a large number of non-resident guest hunters; and

WHEREAS, nearly 90 per cent of South Dakota's pheasant hunting occurs on privately-owned lands; and

WHEREAS, South Dakota landowners have always extended the hunter a welcome to hunt on private lands if the hunter is courteous enough to ask for permission first;

NOW THEREFORE, I, Joe Foss Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim the week of October 18-25 as

"Ask Before You Enter Week"

and respectfully urge all citizens of South Dakota and guest hunters to respect the landowner's rights and ask permission first before entering any private lands to hunt during the 1958 seasons, to the end that friendly relations between the hunter and the landowner are maintained and that public use of private lands for hunting be continued.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota to be affixed this 6th day of October 1958.
